Secret World cares for all species of British wildlife

Secret World Wildlife Rescue

Founded in 1992 by wildlife expert Pauline Kidner, Secret World Wildlife Rescue specialises in the rescue, rehabilitation and eventual release of orphaned and injured wild creatures.

We also work to educate the public about native wildlife through open days, our website and a schools education programme. We are renowned nationally for the excellent care and attention given to each individual animal. As a registered charity we are run purely on donations.

Wildlife under threat

Harmed on a daily basis by road traffic, rubbish and pesticides British wildlife is under constant threat; more than 1,000 species are now on the endangered species list. The need for our children to reconnect with the natural world and for us all to make steps to protect our wildlife and their habitats, as an inheritance for future generations, has now been widely acknowledged - your contribution will help us to preserve this precious natural resource.

Help safeguard your local wildlife

As a registered charity we rely solely on voluntary donations. Your support will help fund our rescue service, the hand-rearing of hundreds of orphaned wildlife every year and our work to increase public understanding of an important national treasure.

Adopt an animal today and help save British wildlife

As the West Country's only 24 hour wildlife rescue service, Secret World saves animals that have been found by the public, often in the worst possible conditions, suffering from illness, left without mothers or in agony from their wounds. When wild animals and birds are sick, injured or orphaned we are the ones most likely to be called. Last year Secret World rescued 4,242 creatures in distress - providing treatment and care until they are ready to be returned to the wild. We not only rescue wildlife regionally but also receive casualties from all over the UK due to our well known expertise in wildlife rehabilitation.

OWL

Britain's birds of prey are awe-inspiring and the owl is perhaps the best-loved. With handling and care expertise we help when they become grounded by illness or even caught in kite wires.

HEDGEHOG

Untangling poor fellows like these caught up in fruit netting fixed too low is just one of the ways we help hundreds of hedgehogs - creatures now on the endangered species list.

FOX

These magnificent creatures symbolise our wildlife. Each year we rear cubs orphaned by road accidents, pesticides or cruelty. We even rescued a fox from the roof of a shopping mall!

OTTER

As pollution in rivers eases, this long endangered species is starting to make a come-back. We help when cubs become orphaned by starting an 18 month journey of love, bottle-feeds, fish eating and even swimming lessons!

BADGER

Every year we rescue close to 200 badgers, victims of traffic accidents and the cruel badger-baiting. Our dedication is total, from fighting for a life on the operating table to waking for night-time feeds for hapless orphans.
